Exercises and documents, general instructions and examples ... Listening comprehension is the first test of the DELF A1 exam. It consists of finding out what the teacher is telling you and determining quickly and accurately what you have heard. This part of the exam covers the following topics: - speech, language and speaking - reading and understanding texts - writing and written knowledge - general instructions and examples - mathematics and statistics Listening comprehension is the first test of the DELF A1 exam. It consists of learning what the teacher is telling you and determining quickly and accurately what you have heard. You will hear a variety of dialogues that can talk about the weather, school assignments, school, books, clothes, etc. All of them are not specific topics that you should know, but rather describe everyday situations in which you may find yourself. The dialogues will be presented in an audio version so that you can listen to them with your mobile device and then answer the teacher's questions. Each dialogue will have four options. Choose the correct one using the numbers 1, 2, or 3. You will only need to choose one correct answer out of the four. This will help you check if you understood the dialogue and see if you answered correctly. It will also help you if you missed any words but still understand what they are about. Dialogues from: 1. In a restaurant. 2. At the doctor's office. 3. In a store 4. At the hotel 5. At the cash register 6. On the road 7. At the airport 8. At the post office 9. At the hospital 10. At the dentist 11.
